

THAT HEARING NOW ON

Two Sessions of the Cyanide Commission Held.

TWO WITNESSES SWORN.

NEITHER OF THESE GENTLEMEN KNEW ANYTHING IMPORTANT.

Anticipated That the Examination of Witnesses Will Consume at Least Two More Days—Campaign of Ignorance in Its Truest Sense—Bond Given on the Famous Grand Gulch.

Copper Properties—Expects Are to Go South and Make Inspection—Maxfield Mining Company's Properties Are Being Equipped With Machinery—General Mining News.

As was stated would be the case, the opening session of the commission sent out here by the South African courts for the purpose of taking testimony in the famous cases now before the courts named, took place yesterday at the Knutsford parlors, lasting during the entire day. At least the work out into the whole day, even though the sittings of the commission were not lengthy, but two witnesses being examined. These were C. B. Steen, of California, and Joseph E. Gallagher, of this city. Neither of the gentlemen were acquainted with the workings of the cyanide when used as a solvent for gold and they were just the kind of witnesses most desired by the McArthur-Forrest people, who are conducting a campaign of ignorance at this time. It having been claimed that the solution of cyanide was used quite extensively for the extraction of the precious metals from ore prior to the issuance of the letters patent, the cyanide people are endeavoring to show that the process was an entirely new one at the time of the granting of the patents covering the use of the cyanide. For this purpose they put on the stand only such people as are reputed to know nothing regarding the workings of the process and in this manner they are literally conducting a campaign of ignorance. They seem to have no difficulty in obtaining the desired class of witnesses in every section of the country visited by them. The progress of the case is very slow on account of the obstacles thrown in the way through desirable witnesses being unable to respond to the call without some delay. At the hearings yesterday Mr. Edmonds conducted the examination in chief, while Mr. Truett subjected the witnesses to cross-examination. Judge Boyle, counsel in chief for the Gold and Silver Extraction Company of America (Limited), which has a suit against the Mercer company for the collection of royalty now before the local court, was present, while Attorney Pierce, one of the counsel for the Mercer company, and President John Bern, of the company, were also present during the two sittings.

The entire time of the morning session was consumed in the examination of C. B. Steen, of California, a pioneer mining operator in that state, who was brought here by the cyanide people for the purpose of going upon the stand. In response to questions from Mr. Edmonds the witness stated that he had operated very extensively in California, both in mining and milling, and was acquainted with the various processes of ore treatment. He had sunk $10,000 in the Union mine, located in Amador county, and in 1875 had made use of a solution of cyanide in the mill for the purpose of cleaning the plates and also in the battery in the local court, was present, while Attorney Pierce, one of the counsel for the Mercer company, and President John Bern, of the company, were also present during the two sittings.

At the conclusion of Mr. Steen's examination the commission took an adjournment until 2 o'clock in the afternoon and from the latter hour again to 3 o'clock and then to 4 o'clock, all on account of the inability of the defense to procure a desirable witness. At 4 o'clock the session commenced with Joseph E. Gallagher on the stand. The gentleman stated that he was an experienced mill man and mining operator, for years being superintendent of the Ontario mill. He had always kept posted on mining matters and considered himself familiar with the various processes of precious metal extraction. In a general way he was acquainted with the cyanide process but had never had any personal experience with its operations. What knowledge he possessed on the subject had been gleaned from the statements of others and books on the subject. Prior to the introduction of Mr. McArthur-Forrest process he had never heard of the use of cyanide as a solvent for gold. In response to questions from Mr. Truett the witness stated that he did not know whether or not alkali was used in the McArthur-Forrest process and he did not know of his own knowledge what was the strength of the solution made use of in the process named. He had only heard of it from others.

There being no other witnesses present an adjournment was taken to the morning. It is anticipated that the work of the commission will not be completed in this city before Monday. The defense has a long line of witnesses on the list, among them being Messrs. P. T. Farnsworth, Mackintosh, Almy, Therman, Officer, McIntyre, Ter-laine, Nell and a number of other prominent mining men.

BOND ON THE GRAND GULCH.

Famous Southern Utah Property Will Be Explored.

For some time past negotiations have been on regarding a group of famous southern mines known as the Grand Gulch, and it is now announced that a bond has been given on the properties to the representative of a French syndicate and it is the intention of the interested parties to visit the mines in the very near future for the purpose of exploring them. In the event of the properties making the showing expected it is more than likely that the bond will be taken up without delay.

Since the 70's the Grand Gulch has been a famous group of mines and shipments of ores from the properties were made to Wales. At St. George, Utah, the south-western mines are located, and when the bond was given a year ago and kept in blast for over a year on ores from the Grand Gulch. The long wagon haul and the many other dangers and the effect of finally causing a suspension of operations, and since the blast was turned off the properties have been idle. The great majority of the stock is held by the Jennings boys, the Jennings boys, the control having been secured by their father some years before his death. Thomas W. Jennings is the owner of 1,000 shares.

The ores from the Grand Gulch average 40 per cent copper, while some have been taken out that would go 60 per cent in that metal.

MACHINERY FOR THE MAXFIELD.

Some Extensive Improvements Are Now Being Made.

There is a great deal of important and at the same time quiet work going on at the properties of the Maxfield Mining company in Big Cottonwood canyon, where the plant developments now going on are completed the company will be in a position to make a great record of production. Practically all of the energy of the company is now being devoted to the work laid out by General Manager James, and in consequence comparatively little attention is being given to the mines. Mr. James has just returned from the properties, where he has spent the past several weeks personally overseeing the development work.

THIRD TERM LOOKING WELL.

Thomas W. Jennings Has Returned From a Visit of Inspection.

Upon his return to the city from the Tacoma country, where he went for the purpose of inspecting the Third Term mine, owned by him and situated to the southwest of Grantsville, Thomas W. Jennings reported that the mine is in excellent shape and will speedily commence the shipment of ores and concentrates on an extensive scale. The mine is being worked on the low grade with two lines. They expect to ship in the neighborhood of a hundred tons of ore and concentrates monthly for the remainder of the season. The work is being done on the low grade with two lines. They expect to ship in the neighborhood of a hundred tons of ore and concentrates monthly for the remainder of the season. The work is being done on the low grade with two lines.

MUST INCREASE THE WATER.

Bullion-Beck Supply Is Now Running Very Short.

There must be an increase worked in the water supply of the Bullion-Beck at once or serious results may follow, for the flow of the system is now down to a point entirely without the needs of the company and the town of Provo. The proper policy is being decided upon the proper policy to adopt in this matter. Messrs. Ramberger, Cannon and Beck went out to the camp on Thursday and Mr. Cannon came in yesterday afternoon leaving the other gentlemen still there. It has practically been decided that some extensive development work will be done at the source of the water supply and the indications are that the necessary increase can be effected.

Another Stack Going In.

At the Hanauer smelters another stack will be blown in this morning and this will give the works three, four and five more tons of blast and will also make seven in blast at the valley smelters. Of these the Hanauer and Germania will each have three and the Pennsylvania one.

Ordered More Machinery.

The board of directors of the Grand Central Mining company, operating in the Tintic district, held a meeting yesterday afternoon at Provo and it was decided that the properties being developed must be equipped with additional machinery in order that the work may be carried on more satisfactorily and with better progress. It is anticipated that the new hoisting plant will be in place early in the coming week and then the company will be in a position to push the work of sinking the shaft with considerably increased vigor. The property of the company will be equipped with air drills and all of the other machinery necessary in the development of the new territory.

Showing Very Gratifying.

It is a very excellent showing being made by the Comstock and the indications are that before the face of the drift on the vein has moved many feet further the ore body for which the company has been searching will be cut. The rock is now very promising and bunches of galena are coming in. Some of the rock from the face of the drift was tested yesterday and the returns were a surprise to even the most sanguine member of the company, for the quartz tested contained 10 per cent silver and 33.40 in gold. There is any amount of just such ore in the property.

Dividend Is Coming.

This is the day when the Mercer company pays its monthly dividend and the sum of $25,000 is to be distributed among the stockholders of the company. This makes the total of dividend payments for the Mercer $275,000.

Sterling Gold Received.

The Commercial National bank yesterday received a bar of gold bullion from the property of the Sterling Gold Mining and Milling, its value being $2,300. Operations have not yet commenced at the new mill of the company, and it is likely that there may be some delay, as the engine is being put in for the purpose of doubling up the power of the works. Messrs. Langford and Smith are now on the road to the property.

Off One Point.

The white metal yesterday lost one point, the close on the New York market being 65 1/2 cents, as compared with 67 cents on the day before. Lead remained at $3.20.

Mercer Mercury Notes.

Adamson, Hoffman and Parmelee have given a lease and bond on the Pacific group to George Mullett and others. The claims are located below the Sunshine, have an excellent surface showing and the development thus far made has been of a very encouraging nature.

The Cannon mining company has purchased the Mary E. Mary E. No. 2, and the Wonder claims, of Murphy, Presbie, Mary Eatough and others. They are located in the units of the North Side and Old Grover, and several thousand dollars changed hands in the transaction.

The Marple shaft is now down 225 feet and the bottom is in hard lime. George Hanner and Billy Fordham took a contract this week for another fifty feet.

W. C. B. Allen put a force of men to work this week on the Anna Laura group, near the Glenwood. The nature of the work is cross-cutting from the bottom of the old shaft.

Much Overlooked.

TACOMA, Wash., July 19.—Mrs. Hattie Willis, a Tacoma woman who went to Alaska last winter, writes from Circle City, in the interior, on the Yukon, that the country has been overhauled and many prospectors have left this fall. Provisions are running short and what can be had are very high priced.

Tintic Miner Notes.

As previously stated in the Miner would be the case, work was commenced this week on the Tetro. Manager Tetro states that about one week's work will be required in cleaning and retimbering, after which he will begin driving the tunnel ahead. We believe the Tetro will be all right with a little more development.

Manager Loose, of the Utah, states that the road from the Rio Grande to the tunnel will be completed before part of next week and the construction of the ore chute commenced. Shipments from the property will probably be resumed in a very short time.

Ore and Bullion Receipts.

Commercial National yesterday received Sterling gold bullion, $2,300. T. R. Jones & Co. received: Germania bullion, $3,000; silver and lead ores, $6,200. McCormick & Co. received: Silver and lead ores, $4,200; Hanauer bullion, $3,900. Wells, Fargo & Co. received: Pennsylvania bullion, $4,113.

It will be gratifying to consumers to note that the quality of the baking powder made generally in this city, by the Tintic, the Royal, is confirmed by the highest official authorities as altogether the best of any in the market.

CANNING HORSES.

Plant Near Portland Is Now in Operation.

PORTLAND, Ore., July 19.—The horse-canning plant of the Western Packing company located at Linnton, ten miles from this city, will commence operations today. The establishment has all the facilities for slaughtering, packing and preparing for shipment, and is the only one of its kind on the Pacific coast. Several carloads of horses have been shipped here to be slaughtered within the next few days. It is expected that a good market for horse meat will be worked up in foreign

A Sufferer Cured.

"Every season, from the time I was two years old, I suffered dreadfully from erysipelas, which kept growing worse until my hands were almost useless. MAKES GOOD SHOWING.

Reports of Business Done By Salt Lake's Postoffice.

GREAT INCREASE MADE.

JUNE WAS THE HEAVIEST MONTH FOR THE PAST THREE YEARS.

Entire Stock of A. Hollander, Druggist, Transferred Yesterday Under Bill of Sale—Some Complications May Result—General Insurance Managers Approve of the Recent Action of the Local Agents in Forming a State Board—Reform School Received Its Last Warrants For This Year—Estimated Wool Clip of the Territory Given By Charles Andrews—Clearing House Will Again Consider the Half Holiday Matter—Business Notes.

As is always the case, Salt Lake's postoffice makes a great showing for the first half of the present year, the increase in the general business transacted during the period from January 1 to June 30 being very marked and gratifying in the extreme to the citizens of this city. The postoffice of any city may safely be taken as an index of the business transactions throughout the district directly tributary, and in this particular Salt Lake is making a record that is second to none; in fact, the postoffice department always takes pains to compile the postmaster of the local office upon the manner of doing business here and the volume transacted. Postmaster Barrett and his corps of office and field men have every reason to congratulate themselves upon the work being done.

For the half year ending with the past month the value of the money orders issued was $34,553.30, while the number was 10,332. On the other hand, the amount paid out in the redemption of orders was $172,216.65, and the number of orders given was 4,700. There were 187 transactions over the counter daily for the period which the reports just out cover. There were 6,116 money orders paid to local business houses and banks, and 5,000 sent from the city, which indicates that much of the money which was formerly flowing to the eastern markets is now being retained here. The condition of affairs did not exist a few years ago, when the balance was on the other side of the register. These figures given do not include the receipt and disbursement of several thousand dollars daily received from postmasters of this and adjoining states.

The sales of stamps and supplies between the dates of January 1 and July 1 aggregated $2,424, and during the same period the registry department received for registration 3,568 pieces, handled in transit 13,567 pieces, and received for local delivery 9,673 pieces. The records of the mailing department show a great increase in the amount of matter handled, the total weight being 1,060,765 pounds.

During the month of June the records of the Salt Lake office showed that a remarkable increase in business took place. June is usually one of the most quiet months, but such has been the case this year. The reports show a business of stamped supplies sold of $3,178.84 for the month, which is an increase over the business of any other single month for the past three years.

As at present made up, the Salt Lake postoffice consists of, in addition to the postmaster and assistant, twenty-two carriers, five substitutes, seventeen clerks and one special messenger. The district covered is greater than any other like sized force in the United States now covers.

HOLLANDER CLOSED OUT.

Gave a Bill of Sale For His Entire Drug Stock.

With the passing of the day went the entire drug stock of A. Hollander, and it is now stored in a warehouse back behind the store of the East. Terry Mercantile company, being held by Joseph Baumgarten for his brother, Leo Baumgarten, by virtue of a bill of sale executed by Mr. Hollander. The bill of sale covered the entire stock of the Baumgartens and left the other creditors out in the cold, among them Mr. Hollander's banker, who holds claims of several hundred dollars. Hollander was also in arrears with his rent, and on this account the Auerbachs hold him for in the neighborhood of $700. Considerable surprise was expressed in the business circles yesterday that the stock should have been moved without the landlords of the former owner stepping in and making claim, as they had the right to do, and the landlord had been questioned regarding this phase of the case yesterday. Mr. Auerbach stated that they had already given Hollander notice to move and much preferred to have the additional room for their own use in the display of stock than to tie up the stock of drugs. Such was not the feeling of the other creditors, or at least the unsecured ones, and they may make some trouble for Mr. Hollander and the holders of the stock.

It is claimed that Hollander owed Leo Baumgarten something like $2,600, but the bill of sale made out for $1,800. Business has not been in with him for some time past and so Hollander decided to make a heroic move. He transferred the stock to Joe Auerbach, for the latter brother's brother and then left his usual business haunts. He was not seen by many people yesterday. It is not known what the outside claims are against him, but it is said that there are quite a number. With the exception of the people named there are practically no local claimants. Mr. Baumgarten is holding the stock of goods in the warehouse awaiting orders from his brother.

APPROVE THE ACTION.

General Insurance Managers Like the State Organization.

At the meeting of the local Board of Fire Underwriters held yesterday afternoon Manager Donnell presented a large number of communications from both eastern and western general managers approving of the recent action of the insurance agents of this territory in getting together and forming a state board of underwriters. The work done by the local agents of this territory is heartily applauded and it is very evident that the chiefs think well of the conservative manner in which the situation has been managed. In Utah there seems to be a very general feeling that within the next few months at the longest there will be a change in the general situation on the coast, and that instead of the continual warfare, peace will reign. In a measure, at least, among insurance companies doing business this side of the Rocky mountains. Already the recent action of Brown, Craig & Co., for their companies is having the desired effect and it is said on good authority that other agencies are to follow suit at once.

How the Loss Was Divided.

The insurance on the buildings and stock destroyed in the fire at Bluff yesterday morning was distributed among five companies, all of the risks having been placed by the agency of Rogers & Walker. A total of $7,000 insurance was carried and the loss is estimated as high as $15,000. Of the liability the National of Hartford held $3,000, the Home Mutual, $1,000, the Liverpool, London and Globe, $1,500; Traders, $1,500, and the Providence of Washington, $1,000. In addition to the policies named Mr. Strickley, the owner of the ruined store, held three others for $300 each, written by the People's Insurance company, of New Hampshire. These policies were shown around the meeting of the local board yesterday afternoon, with the announcement that the company retired from business several years ago without taking care of its outstanding policies. The board did not expire, according to the policies held by Mr. Strickley, until next month. This is another notice to property holders against insuring in unknown and unreliable companies.

Pulled Another Off.

Local union agents are again congratulating themselves upon having pulled another heavy insurer from the clutches of the non-boarders. It is the Seigel Clothing company, which will not rewrite its outside companies, but on the other hand, has promised to place its business with the members of the board. This is the result of the enforcement of the non-intercourse rule. About $17,500 in insurance was affected by this determination.

Because of its much greater strength, the Royal Baking Powder is more economical than any similar leavening agent.

DREW ITS LAST WARRANTS.

Reform School Now Dependent Upon the People of Ogden.

For the accommodation of the Reform school, Territorial Auditor Caine yesterday devoted a considerable length of time to the drawing of a large number of warrants where one has formerly covered the case. It is no secret that the school is short of funds, thanks to the far-sightedness of the last Republican legislature, and but for the fact that the business men of Ogden have decided to furnish all of the necessary supplies for maintenance and wait upon the next legislature for compensation, the school would have closed some days ago. There is now just sufficient money in the treasury for the payment of all accounts up to July 1 and it was for the purpose of paying off the small claims that the cracking of the last warrant which the school is drawing was resorted to. There were forty of the small warrants and the aggregate face value was $3,700. This balanced the account of the institution for the second half of the year.

Since the resumption of the school up of delinquents by the auditor there have been some responses on the part of the behind hand county collectors, and the amount of taxes outstanding has been reduced to the cases of Salt Lake, Millard and Box Elder counties. In the latter the money due to the territory, as well as a considerable amount yet coming to the county, is tied up in a dispute with the railroad companies. The board of equalization raised the assessment of certain property and the tax payments have not yet been made. It is understood that another move is to be inaugurated by the territorial officers to force payment of all delinquent amounts.

UTAH'S WOOL PRODUCTION.

Charles Andrews Now Estimates it at Over Thirteen Millions.

Having assisted in clearing up the wool of the western part of the state of Wyoming for the present season, Charles Andrews came in yesterday morning and this morning will go down to Nephi. He is now in a better position than before to estimate the total wool production of this territory for the present year than was the case some weeks ago, and according to the estimates made by him, the clip will be something over 13,000,000 pounds. It may reach 13,500,000 pounds, which would be about 1,000,000 pounds short of the 1894 yield. While there has been a falling off in the total number of pounds produced there has also been a decrease in the shrinkage and an improvement in the general staple. These, taken with the improvement in price, have given the wool growers something to be thankful for and they are not now nearly so loud in their denunciations of the Democratic party as was the case last fall.

Action Not Final.

It now develops that the action taken by the board of directors of the clearing house association the other night on the petition of the bank employees for a half holiday every Saturday, was not final by any manner of means and another crack will be taken at the petition before the record is closed. A scrutiny of the constitution of the association reveals the fact that the hours of banking in this city are fixed for from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. each day except Sundays and legal holidays and that to make any change thirty days' notice of intention must be given to the members and then the affirmative vote must be three-fourths of the membership. At the meeting the other night but seven members of the twelve voted in the affirmative and the necessary thirty days' notice had not been given. Now the action taken at the last meeting is taken as a formal act of intention and at the end of thirty days another meeting will be called for the purpose of taking action on the petition for a half holiday. Unless there is a change of heart on the part of at least two of the members of the board the action will not be affirmative. The provisions of the constitution were not thoroughly understood by the members who took part in the recent proceedings.

Nearly Sold Out.

At the present rate it will not take much longer for the People's Equitable Co-op to dispose of its stock, the great bulk of it having already been unloaded. Sales are being made in large amounts to outside merchants and in consequence the shipments made by the institution are extensive. As soon as the goods are disposed of an attempt is to be made to dispose of the lease held by the Co-op on the ground upon which its building now stands. This lease runs for thirteen and one-half years yet, the monthly rental being but $45 per month. When all of its business has been wound up the disincorporation will be the next move.

These Little Rollers save one horse.

What Little Rollers?

Why, the Little Rollers in the Deering & Pony and Steel Binders and Mowing Machines. Rollers have taken the place of friction bearings and have reduced the friction from thirty to sixty by changing sliding contact to rolling contact.

In all things highest excellence is simplicity, and as this is the case with the Deering Harvesting Machinery, they have, through years of toil and hard labor by the inventor and manufacturer, reached the top of the ladder, whereby they can be termed the Champions of the World. Silence is golden, and an argument over silence, like an argument over the merits of the Deering Machinery, is hard to beat.
